Montebello and Panorama City, CA)

Allegations:

Incomplete abortions
Gross negligence
Repeated negligent acts
Incompetence
Dishonesty and corruption
Malpractice
Billing fraud

Status:

Surrendered his medical license in 1999

Factoids:

Mohamed F. Dia surrendered his medical license in September 1999 after being accused by the state of California's medical board of negligence and incompetence in two different cases. He admitted to the medical board that he used a van to bring a bleeding patient to a hospital after perforating her uterus and leaving part of the fetus in her body.

Dia worked for a chain of abortion clinics, Clinica Medica Para La Mujer de Hoy, that spanned from San Diego to the Los Angeles area. He surrendered his medical license while medical board charges were still pending, on September 30, 1999.
