Factoids:

- Rand was sued over 40 times for malpractice and negligence, many of which were related to botched abortions.
- He withstood numerous license suspensions and other disciplinary actions taken against him by the Medical Board of California.
- Rand has had over 45 judgments against him and he filed for bankruptcy in 1992 to avoid paying millions of dollars to the families that he had hurt.
- Rand was involved in a botched abortion in 2004 that led to the revocation of his medical license. Rand spent five minutes aborting a baby at 20 weeks gestation, then left Santa Ana to return to Chula Vista, CA. He refused to return to the clinic after he was informed that his patient was bleeding. When the ambulance crew arrived, they discovered a hemorrhaging patient, two unlicensed workers, and no crash cart.
